

Margin – The Journal of Applied Economic Research

Aim and Scope of the Journal

The journal is a focal point for the dissemination of empirical information and research findings in the broad areas of applied economics. A major emphasis is on policy analysis and the application of modern quantitative techniques to development issues. It is aimed at encouraging economic research and analysis to achieve a deeper understanding of the dynamics of development processes for effective policy making. The issues covered will have a broad scope of national and international importance. The aim is to make Margin – The Journal of Applied Economic Research an important source of analysis on policy issues for India and other countries, especially in Asia.

Notes for Contributors

Margin – the Journal of Applied Economic Research is a refereed journal. Papers submitted to it should make either a methodological contribution in applied economic research or a contribution to policy discussion. In this sense, papers may not report only empirical research but also conceptual viewpoints. They can relate to any branch of applied economic research, and may also draw from important findings from research projects.

Contributions to the journal should be original papers and not be under consideration for any other publication at the same time. If another version of the article is under consideration by another publication, or has been, or will be published elsewhere, authors should clearly indicate this at the time of submission.

Each manuscript should be submitted electronically to abhasin.margin@gmail.com and as hard copy, addressed to Anuradha Bhasin, Managing Editor, Margin – The Journal of Applied Economic Research, National Council for Applied Economic Research, Parisila Bhavan, 11 Indraprastha Estate, New Delhi-110002. Papers may be around 20–25 pages in length, including figures and tables, on A4 size paper, with 1.5 line spacing. Manuscripts should be accompanied by a CD-ROM in IBM compatible format, preferably in MS Word, and identical in every respect to the hard copy.

Other Guidelines

1. Contributors must provide their affiliations and complete postal and e-mail addresses with their papers.
2. All articles must be accompanied by an abstract of 150 words, the JEL subject codes and keywords. Notes, which must contain more than a mere reference, should be numbered serially and presented at the end of the article.
3. Tables and figures should be indicated by number, such as '(see Table 1)', not by placement '(see Table below)'.
4. References should be presented at the end of the article. All references should be embedded in the text in the anthropological style, e.g. '(Raman 1961)' or '(Lakshman 1989: 125)'. Page numbers in the text are necessary only if the cited portion is a direct quote. Citations should be first alphabetical and then chronological, e.g., '(Lakshman 1999; Raman 1995, 1997; Raman 1999)'.
